Few things are nicer than enjoying a summer picnic outside listening to the sounds of music, under the warmth of the sun or a starlit sky. Many studies also show the therapeutic benefits of music. There are many musical events happening in local venues this summer, and we start our summer concert season off at the Suicide Six ski area with the Vermont Symphony Orchestra. For “Evening Out” events will offer two trips to the South Royalton Town Green to hear the South Royalton Town Band in July and August. The band will play a total of 8 concerts on Thursdays this summer in Randolph and a Friday evening concert at the Woodstock Historical Society on Friday, July 13th. On Thursdays at noon, Pentangle offers the popular Brown Bag concert series for an hour on the Woodstock Village Green. Order your brown bag lunch prepared by Chef Ryan on concert days that we are offering and let us know if you need a chair! So we invite you to call a friend, grab a lawn chair, order a picnic from The Thompson, and enjoy an afternoon or early evening of outdoor music.

C.J. King became interested in the Lincoln women when she learned she was related to them through the Harlan family. Dr. Harold Holzer, the author or editor of 23 books about Abraham Lincoln, wrote the book’s introduction. He observed, “The Lincoln women have been woefully ignored by most historians, and deserve their day in the sun. At long last C.J. King has filled in many blanks with a history of the Lincoln—and Todd—and Harlan women across two centuries. C.J. King is a professional writer and editor for more than 30 years.

Time has done little to dim those perilous times and the significance of experiences lives in service...World War II Remembered is an exceptional human document—a legacy of greatness to be treasured for a very long time.
